Experience/Projects

Appwrite / Developer Ambassador

JAN 2024 - PRESENT

Creating technical content to educate developers on the value of using backend-as-a-service to help drive adoption to the product by being part of the Appwrite ambassador program called "Appwrite Heroes" through social media engagement and content.

Content examples:

- Chatwrite - real time chat app
- Pizza Pix - social site for pizza lovers
- See more on my blog

TechCommute / Co-Founder & Host

MAR 2023 - PRESENT

- Hosting a monthly podcast on Twitter Spaces where we invite special guests to go over various technical topics
- Also been a guest on several tech Podcasts, such as CompressedFm, Nodegree podcast, WeAreDevelopers, and Frontend Happy Hour
- Organized a two day virtual conference with 20 speakers, raising over $11k for Cohosts family during their battle with cancer. Several hundred people over the course of the two day event registered.

UltraFab / Process Engineer

SEPT 2023 - PRESENT

- Focusing on implementing new processes, reducing production time up to 75%, leading to 12 product launches in 1 year, and contributing to increasing department revenue by 22%
- Helped reduce product development by 25% by centralizing data and building custom dashboards
- Improved workflows by building documentation for production teams, improving efficiency by 30%

Jason Torres Productions / Production Manager

JAN 2005 - MAR 2020

- Managed teams of over 100 individuals, while managing budgets up to $30M and delivering projects under budget
- Collaborated across multiple departments (including camera, art, sound, script, etc) to coordinate the production of 10 films, 4 TV shows, and 30+ commercials
- Led the production of a pilot season (8 episodes) for a Discovery Channel show, managing a $24M budget and coordinating shoots across 14 locations, within a 3-month deadline. This project demonstrates my strategic planning and execution skills, directly translatable to working with large-scale developer community and engagement initiatives, educational content, and working with diverse developer communities
